STATINTL

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Brezhnev Assures Kissinger on Ties

By Jack Anderson

Kremlin czar Leonid Brezhnev used tough language to impress upon Henry Kissinger in Moscow that Russia will continue to support North Vietnam.

But Brezhnev assured the President's peripatetic foreign policy adviser that the Vietnam war need not stand in the way of better Soviet-American relations.

The conversations continued, off and on, for four days. Sources privy to the secret details tell us Brezhnev was furious over U.S. suggestions that the Soviets had equipped Vietnam.

President Nixon himself served an oblique warning U.S. to be pushed around. upon the Kremlin that "great sponsibility for the use of arms by those to whom they softened. give them."

Brezhnev offered no apolo-Answer to Thailand gles for furnishing Hanoi with and other sophisticated weapons that have shown up on the fighting fronts. The North Vietnamese have used these heavy arms to spearhead their Washington, Thalland angrily new offensive.

Brezhnev not only acknowlshipments to Hanoi have been say."

plain he would risk alienating based upon a thorough field tribes in . . . Thailand have the U.S. before abandoning investigation by American been ineffective." North Vietnam.

He suggested that a Victnam settlement can still be negotiated. However, there was no Soviet offer to soften Hanoi's terms. Brezhnev and Kissinger merely agreed that the two superpowers shouldn't let substantiate our charges. the Vietnam war disrupt their efforts to seek a Soviet-Ameri-ple, that they "began an intenean detente.

Back at the White House. Kissinger apparently has persuaded the President not to let the Vietnam fighting jeopardize relations with the Russians. Nixon's first reaction after the new North Vietnam-Hanol for an invasion of South ese offensive was to hit back. He said privately that he wasn't going to permit the

But the original hard U.S. powers cannot avoid the re-line, at least so far as Russia is concerned, has now been

The government of Thailand the T-54 tanks, heavy artillery has accused us of "slanderous accusations" for reporting how prominent Thais help to hustle beroin to U.S. markets.

Through its embassy in charged that our recent col-preventing tribesmen from umn on the Thai drug trade growing opium, the CIA lands ringing Hong Kong for was based "merely on hear-states: "Government measures later retrieval by a Hong edged that Soviet military was based "merely on hearnareotics and intelligence five reports dealing wholly or in part with the Thai dope with the smugglers. trade. These reports, elassified "Confidential" and "Secret."

The Thais elaim, for examsive campaign against dangerous drugs more than ten years ago." They say the Bangkok government has taken "effective measures" against drugs. A program to get hill tribesnien to stop growing opium. they add, has "met with suceess."

These statements are flatly contradicted by the five CIA documents, dated from October, 1970 to October, 1971.

Far from showing progress in the last ten years, Thailand and its two neighbors, Burma past ten years from a major center for the growing and production of intermediate narcotics products to a major center for producing finished kok or Thai deep sea trawlers. heroin."

to curtail the growth of the Kong junk." increased, but he made it In fact, our report was oplum poppy among the hill

That law authorities, whom agents. The Central Intelli- the government claims have gence Agency has published cracked down on the drug traffie, are actually in cahoots

> Declares the CIA: "Officials of the RTA (Royal Thai Army), the BPP (That border police) and Customs at the several checkpoints on the route to Bangkok are usually bribed ..."

> There are, says the CIA, a multitude of civilian and military officials in Burma, Laos and Thailand "who take their cut to ensure safe passage of the opium ..."

The CIA operatives, unlike the Thai authorities, have carefully pinpointed poppy distribution points, fields, processing centers and smuggling routes in Thailand.

Concludes the CIA: "Only or morphine base is delivered to laboratories in Bangkok for further refinement into morphine or heroin . . . Most of and Laos, have "evolved in the the refined produce is then smuggled aboard Hong Kongbound vessels-cither merchant ships at the Cho Phraya River docks in Bang-

"Such craft may then de-As for the alleged success in posit the illicit eargo on one of the several hundred small is-

@ 1972, United Feature Syndicate.